GUEST SPEAKERS:

Justice Darryl L. Hecht practiced law in Sioux City for twenty-two years before his appointment to the Iowa Court of Appeals in 1999. He was appointed to the Iowa Supreme Court in 2006.

B. John Burns is an Assistant Federal Public Defender, former Assistant Public Defender and former Assistant Appellate Defender. He is the author of the Iowa Practice series book, Criminal Procedure. His Case Law Update has become a yearly tradition for the Public Defender Association's CLE.

Betsy Clarke is the founder and President of the Juvenile Justice Initiative. She served as Juvenile Justice Counsel for the Cook County Public Defender for six years, and served for 15 years at the State Appellate Defender.

Steven J. Drahozal is an Assistant Public Defender for the Dubuque Office. Before joining the Public Defender Office in October 2014, he was in private practice where he practiced primarily in state post-conviction and appellate cases as well as federal criminal defense. He co-teaches the annual SPD course for post-conviction relief and has served as chair of the Iowa State Bar Association's Criminal Law Section.

Jerry Foxhoven is the Executive Director of Clinical Programs and Professor of Law at Drake University Law School. He was previously the Director of the Joan & Lyle Middleton Center for Children's Rights, the Iowa Child Advocacy Board and a practicing trial attorney for many years.

Audrey McGinn is the Director of the Wrongful Conviction Division of the Office of the State Public Defender. The WCD is dedicated to the release of indigent Iowa inmates who are innocent of the crimes for which they were convicted. Formerly of the California Innocence Project, Ms. McGinn has assisted with the exonerated of seven inmates. In addition to her innocence work, she was the program manager of RED Inocente, a program dedicated to building innocence projects and promoting legal reforms throughout Latin America.

Judge William Owens currently serves as co-chair of the Iowa Supreme Court's Advisory Committee for Children's Justice; is a member of the State Council of the Iowa Supreme Court Commission for Children's Justice; and is chair of the Juvenile Judge Committee of the Iowa Judge's Association

Robert Rehkemper is a Managing Partner with the firm of Gourley Rehkemper & Lindholm. A frequent speaker at attorney education seminars, Mr. Rehkemper has distinguished himself as premier defense attorney, specializing in the defense of Operating While Intoxicated cases.

Judge Greg Steensland, Iowa District Court Judge, Fourth Judicial District. Prior to his appointment to bench in 2005, Judge Steensland was in private practice and previously served as Chief Public Defender for the Council Bluffs Office. He is the presiding Judge of the Drug Court Program.
